The Burlington In Transition

by
Bernard G. Corbin & Joseph C. Hardy

This wonderful volume is the reference for the CB&Q's transition period from steam to diesel and is now available in a beautifully executed reprint. This book takes a last look at the finest of the Q Steam—the Northern's & the Hudsons, the Chicago-Aurora mainline, The Aristocrat, the Black Hills, the Motorcars, early Diesels, and the E's, F's, GP's, & SD units. General arrangement drawings for most of the motive power are included.

The Burlington In Transition is 208 pages with 178 pages of black & white and color photos printed on high quality coated paper. The book is $65.00 retail plus shipping. No further reprints of this book are planned.

CB&Q #5632 COLOR POSTER At Burlington, IA. in 1964

"BN..... 5632 is off the draw" A radio call to the Burlington Operator is the subject of this 16" x 20" Color Poster. On October 10, 1964 Extra 5632 West drifts across the bridge at Burlington, Iowa with a clean stack. Right behind the engine is the Chief Illini. After dropping everyone off, the train will be backed across the bridge to set-up for a photo run-by over the bridge with the usual black smoke created with an oily fire and several shovels of sand. The engineer that day was V.M. Danniell. This 16" x 20" COLOR POSTER is printed on heavy 100 lb. Archival paper and can be found with the Train Orders from that October day in The Burlington In Transition. Print is available double matted and framed. Please inquire for matt and frame options. The Poster is $15.00 plus $5.00 shipping & handling.
